

Using public transport in Holland

Upon arrival at the Dutch airport, buy a 'ov chipkaart' (€8,50) and charge it with the budget needed for your entire stay. This way, you can travel easily during the week. We recommend writing the name of the user on every card, since they all look the same. Use your 'ov chipkaart' to check in and out in every kind of public transport (train, bus, tram and metro). Pay by card, not cash and choose a for a receipt if you need one. The card looks like this:

On Monday morning, all teachers will be picked up at Blaak metro station in Rotterdam at 8.30 by Peter Felix (the one you just saw in the video). He will take you to school, which is just a few stops (metro line C to 'de Terp', stop 'Slotlaan').

Walking from station Slotlaan to school will take you 3 minutes (Comenius, Lijstersingel 18, Capelle aan den IJssel):

Cross the street in the direction of these buildings:

Our school is at the third entrance, Lijstersingel 18:

We will be happy to see you and have a great week!
